Press Release

Dan Duest's Twenty-Four Hour Ride A Smashing Success

Dan Duest, founder of Riding to Raise Money, has just completed an incredible feat, all for charity. On Saturday, September 28th, Dan rode for over twenty-four hours as a fundraiser for Children's Hospital of Boston.

Riding to Raise Money is a not-for-profit organization that showcases area motorcycle riders performing incredible stunt shows, with all profits going towards local charities.

When asked why he wanted to try such a daunting endurance challenge, Dan said that, "Children's Hospital is a wonderful organization. They're top notch. So doing a show like this is the least that I could do to raise money for such a worthy cause."

Dan said that he would not have been able to do it without the support of his family and friends. "At one point, during the middle of the night, my friends woke up and we went riding around Ashland!"

Be sure to check out Dan's website, www.ridingtoraisemoney.com, to find out about more exciting upcoming shows.
